News release

Indian Summer comes to an end

11 October 2002

The Indian summer that gave most parts of the country dry weather over the past few weeks is over.

The very wet conditions already being experienced in the North will spread across the rest of the country over the next few days. This unsettled weather is likely to last for the remainder of the month, giving rise to widespread rain and wind at times.

Nigel Reed, Head of Forecasting at the Met Office, said: "After a very dry start to autumn we are now seeing a change to the sort of unsettled weather that is more typical of this time of year."

For further information:
Met Office Press Office +44 (0)1392 886655

Met Office Customer Centre 0870 900 0100
If you're outside the UK +44 (0)1392 885680

PRINTABLE VERSION

About
Met Office
Hadley Centre
Terms and conditions
Advertise on our site

News
News release archive
Media Centre

Learn
About the weather
From the bookshelf

Services
don't guess weathercall
Met Office forecasts by phone or fax...
Mobile text forecasts
Weathercall
Marinecall
Mountain weather
MetWEB
Talk to a forecaster

Links
Met Office data users
National met. services
Scientific interest sites
EA Floodline
Directgov
Freedom of Information

Contact
Contact us
Questions answered

© Crown copyright